

The media in the United States has become almost irrelevant to the average citizen. Television "news" no longer informs---it propagandizes. Big money controls our media. We need to make the airwaves free again.